

Orly Goldsmith

Program Officer

Orly Goldsmith joined the Foundation as a Program Officer in September 2024. Her work is primarily focused on the Powerful Jewish Learning Experiences strategic priority area, which includes a range of grantee-partners that provide program models for Jewish learning with deep and enduring effects on participants.

Orly has over a decade of experience in business leadership, program design, and community engagement, including leadership roles at organizations like LATAM's largest coding BootCamp, DEV.F, and the Institute of International Education, managing large-scale educational programs, fundraising efforts, and strategic partnerships. She holds an MBA from MIT, an MSc in Environment and Development from LSE, and a BA in Communication from Universidad Iberoamericana. Fluent in Spanish and English, Orly is passionate about fostering inclusive, impactful learning experiences. Originally from Mexico City, she currently lives in the South Bay with her husband, daughter and dog Benita.
